GENERAL DRIFT WEAK

BANK STATEMENT SURPRISING AND DISAPPOINTING.

New York, July 7 .- The stock marwas in the doldrums this morning with scarcely enough way on to indiate the direction of price movements. Yesterday's profit movement took all the snap out of the bulls, and the bears clined to renew a campaign the face of recent indications that ed Kingdom. ders are unwilling to let go of is. The closing of London stock ex-ge for a holiday added another or of dullness. There was nothing than a sluggish drift of prices in pathy with the run of special zing sales. The whole market weaked and fell below last night's prices the surprisingly weak feature of aring house banks. The light volie of selling in view of this astoning statement is striking evidence the confirmed dullness of the mar. The showing is quite inexplicable the basis of any known facts or the dence of tone of the money market ing the week. Loan contraction of 578,600 seems to show clearly enough it the stock market liquidation in rin has been accomplished by the ring off of some of the heavy obliions to the New York money mar. What has become of the $2,870,300 cle and legal tenders which are lost the banks, there is nothing to show, see institutions have gained nearly 100,000 from the sub-treasury accordto the official statements of detiments. Following statements of ding banks of the currency movemat in the interior the most conservae authorities were led to estimate the gain in cash for the week uld aggregate over $3,000,000. The uncertain. The loaning rate, in view of present conditions of surplus reserve is abnormally low, but there is a noticeable tendency to put out only short time loans. The expanded loan account can be traced to investments in sterling and this means that a rise in rates, would one occur, will be met by liquidation of foreign accounts, and an import of gold. But as for explanations on this ground attempts are being made even now to negotiate additional foreign loans.

It is also known that within the next few weeks receipts from the Klondike will be transferred to New York. So far as the crop season demands are concerned there is absolutely nothing to show money is going west. In fact the movement is the other way.

Grain Vessels Scarce.

San Francisco, July 7.—There is a scarcity of wheat ships in this port. Including those now here and on the way, there will not be more than 100 to carry this season's grain crop, which it is estimated will be sufficient to load twice that number of vessels. Charters are firm at 40s. a ton to the United Kingdom.

wheat Market Sags On Rains, But Reacts Somewhat.

Chicago, July 7.—When the wheat market started today's business, among other things in consideration were good rains in the northwest. As to whether the rains would resuscitate the perishing crep in the portions of that section where the spring wheat is not now numbered with the dead, was a matter of controversy. The opinion that it would do some good caused a considerable drop at the opening, which was at 79%. Nor. Pac. 48. 1042. N
